Literacy

Cracking Comprehension

Missing

Anne Scott

I've hunted near, I've hunted far

I even looked inside my car.

I've lost my glasses, I'm in need,
To have them now so I can read.

I loudly swear and I curse

Did I leave them in my purse?

Are they behind the sofa, under the bed?

Oh there they are - on my head!

Using the poem from last week
answer these questions in full in your books,

1. Name 3 places the author looked for their glasses.
2. Where did they find them?
3. How do you think the author felt when she couldn't find them?
4. Have you ever lost something? How did you feel?

Topic

Geography

This term we would have been learning about the oceans and seas of the world and what lives in them for our geography topic.

*Try your hand at some research!
Answer these questions in your books.*

How is an ocean or sea different to a lake?

Can you find the names of the 5 oceans in our world?

Where are they?

Which is the largest?
Which is the coldest?
Which is the deepest?

Tuesday

$792 + 456$	$67 - 29$	$34 \times 21$	$147 \div 7$

Copy into your books and answer.

Write the amount of money in £.

(a)  £

(b)  £

(c)  £

(d)  £

Make a fact file.

All sorts of plants and animals live in our oceans and seas. Choose an animal that lives in this environment and find out everything you can about it.

Here are some suggestions to help your research.

What is its name?

What does it look like?

Where does it live?

What does it eat?

What eats it?

What are its young called?

Have fun! You could become an expert on your creature!

Wednesday

$1478 + 2774$	$861 - 599$	$15 \times 32$	$157 \div 5$
---------------	-------------	----------------	--------------

Write each amount of money in £ then compare the two amounts using <, >, =.

£  is less than £ .

£  is more than £ .

Thursday

We would love to see your finished fact file and learn some facts about living things in the oceans and seas.

$0.267 + 1.34$

$£1.60 - 47p$

$12 \times 33$

$252 \div 6$

Copy these number lines into your books. Round each amount of money to the nearest pound.

$£1.60 = \square$

$£2.45 = \square$

Now answers these. Use a number line to help if you need to.

£3.30

£6.75

£9.10

£12.55

$14.89 + 27.1$

$242 - 189$

$27 \times 51$

$276 \div 9$

Round the price of each item to the nearest £ and to the nearest £10.

(a)

$£15.80 \approx \square$  (to the nearest £)

$£15.80 \approx \square$  (to the nearest £10)

(b)

$£23.25 \approx \square$  (to the nearest £)

$£23.25 \approx \square$  (to the nearest £10)

(c)

$£37.90 \approx \square$  (to the nearest £)

$£37.90 \approx \square$  (to the nearest £10)

Being Resilient!

Resilience means learning how to cope with uncertainty, how to make the most of the resources and connections you have around you, and how to adapt to changing situations.

Kindness is a big part of resilience: without kindness and support, dealing with difficult situations becomes much harder. Building resilience is also being kind to yourself, so that challenges become easier in the future. Resilience and kindness build a stronger you and a stronger community.

How could you be kind to the people in your home, today?

Could you tidy your bedroom?

Could you help somebody with a task they are doing?

Could you make something for somebody to cheer them up?

Could you give somebody a hug?

What could you do to be kind to yourself?

There are lots of small ways to be kind! Make a Kindness Calendar (see below for an example of one Mrs Coleman did in February) and write your acts of kindness on there. How do you feel now you've done little acts of kindness?
